- SIAM receives permission of the authors, media associations, and others when necessary, or may pay to make legal contracts with them.
- SIAM provides or sells its publications to those who agree to comply with the following guidelines in order to protect copyrights of its own and other authors.

1. Terms used in SIAM Copyright Guidelines are defined as follows:

- Same company unit means a single registered commercial head office, same location, and same management unit, so that subsidiaries, associated companies, group companies, and overseas companies shall not be included.
- Same department means the minimum unit of department which has an annual budget and settlement of accounts arranged within the same corporation.
- Organization means this limited branch of an organization. Affiliated organizations and corporations etc. are excluded.
- For library, data hall, or school users, free perusal within reasonable bounds is permissible. However, please note that photocopying or any other means of reproduction is not permitted at the above facilities.

2. The purchaser and their company may use SIAM research resources in the following manner:

- The purchaser may read and pass around resources within limited private reason in the same company. • Libraries may freely offer resources for reading only within certain restrictions.
- Within same company, it is permissible to quote, reproduce, cite, however, it must be credited every time when used, as "Source: Society of Indian Automobile Manufacturers" or Copyright SIAM.
- Use of Excel data and PDF data to create new databases according to individual need is permitted within "same company." There may be no fee charged for the information and it must be noted with a copyright mark.
- Within libraries it is permissible to process, arrange, classify, retrieve, and display purchased materials.
- Digital version of monthly reports (PDF file) can be browsed only by readers approved by SIAM.

3. Forbidden practices: It is forbidden to use SIAM research resources (including all pages of printed matters and digital resources printed out by subscribers), in whole or in part in the following cases without prior permission granted from SIAM. This restriction applies to but is not limited to third party as well as "Same Company."

- Photocopying research resources directly and passing to a third party. For libraries, please be advised that free library use does not include the copy of materials and passing to a third party.
- To quote, reproduce, or otherwise adapt anywhere except within "same company."
- To give or transfer PDF data or Excel data etc. to a third party, or posting on the Internet or company intranet.
- To process all or some of the data, print all or some of the data or the processed data, or post any data on the Internet or company intranet with the intention of providing the data to a third party.
- Use of the ID and password by anyone other- than a registered user at the same department or to forward the ID and password to a third party.
- To translate to another language and give to a third party.
- To convert data into an electronic format by scanning or otherwise and give to a third party.
- To directly or indirectly sell some or all the research data published by SIAM to a third party.
- SIAM digital resources are forbidden to be sold to a library or/and other party which intends to make resources available to a third party.
- Any other action or area except mentioned in article 2.

4. Warning and Termination:

- When it becomes clear that these guidelines have been violated and the customer has misused SIAM copyrighted material, the customer will be warned to cease and desist, and further, the offending company and department name will be noted on SIAM's website.
- If the company disregards the warnings and does not cease and desist the offending activity within the warning period, SIAM will refuse services to the offending company.
- In the event that SIAM or other copyright holder's right have been violated, a claim for damages will be made also precaution under Copyright Act will be initiated.

5. Guideline changes: These guidelines may be changed from time to time.
